Killer Worms

Once a sixth grade class was studying killer worms. All of a sudden, the killer worms broke out of their cages. "Sam!" Katie screamed, "There is a worm on top of your head!" "Too late!" the king worm roared, and then he swallowed Sam. All Katie can remember is jumping out the window in fear. After that, she was scared to leave her house for a long time. One day when she was getting groceries, she saw a worm. "A killer worm!!" she screamed as everyone escaped the grocery store. When she got home, there were millions of killer worms in her house. So she got something she picked up from the grocery store that will kill the worms. She sprayed it over the worms, and they all died. She decided to study one of the dead ones, and she figured out how they stretched their mouth so wide. In the process, she figured out a way to kill all the worms and bring back the dead people. She found the king worm in a cave and killed him with the antidote.

As the worm shriveled away, out popped Sam and the others.

The Hungry Woods

Once upon a time, there was a girl named Lilah and she went to the woods to find her dog, but she went missing for three weeks. When she came back to her house, she said "my dog is a monster" and it will come to eat you! She then said, "I'm going back to stop it", who's with me? Her friends said no thank you! After, Lilah said okay, I'll go by myself, her friends said no, no, no! if you go, we all go too, so they all went with Lilah. Ana and Elizabeth went into the woods, and shortly after found Lilah's dog, but now, her friends went missing!

The towns people got worried about them because they never saw them again. After 20 weeks, no one had still seen them, so that only meant one thing... the woods are hungry! Think about it, Lilah went missing, her dog went missing and now, her two other friends went missing! Anyone that steps foot in the woods goes missing! What in the woods is going on...

The Cursed Flower

Once upon a time, there was a flower and if you eat it, you would be cursed. A girl named Ada, went into the forest and she took the flower as a gift for her mom. Her mom liked it and said, wait a minute, this is edible, should we make a soup? Ada said, sure mom. After her mom ate the soup, she turned into an evil witch and ate her daughter, Ada! Shortly after, she went into the forest and then shifted into her daughter.

She then had an idea to go into town and talk to all the kids to invite them to a forest party, by promising them, candy flowers. The kids said ok, let go! They all went into the forest, expecting a party but the forest trapped them. Slowly, she started to feed them candy, but it had pieces of the cursed flower and the kids started to turn into monsters. Chuy, turned into a werewolf, Lizzy turned into a lizard, Isaac turned into a Frankenstein and Mercedes turned into a slimy beast. Ada's mom was happy to see that she now had a monster family.

The No Face

Once upon a time, a girl named Ava woke up from a strange dream. She didn't see her parents anywhere in the kitchen. Since her parents were doctors, she thought they went to the hospital because of an emergency call. She spent the day in her house with a strange thump on the roof. When she decided to go to the library, she noticed out the window that everyone was covering his or her faces. She ignored the strangeness and went outside.

As she went, a man with a hoodie covering his face started following her. She was getting nervous as the man was following her. She finally got the courage to ask him, "Are you going to the library too?" The man was silent for a few seconds. He finally nodded once. Ava just kept walking and entered the library.

All the people were covering their faces with a book. The man grabbed a book and joined them. Ava went to the bookshelves but saw nothing but dust. She went to the librarian at the counter and asked her, "Excuse me ma'am, I have a question. Where are all the books?" The librarian lifted her head from the computer. Ava was terrified after seeing that the librarian had no face.

She tried running away as the librarian mumbled something. The other people including the man lifted their heads. They all started screaming and chased Ava as one locked the exit. She held her one last breath and screamed. "Ahhhhh~Help!!!"

Ava was reported missing for months. After that, the library and Ava was never seen again.

Camp Foster Woods

Once upon a time, there was a summer camp called Camp Foster where all of the children would go during summer break from school to have fun. One night at Camp Foster all of the children and camp leaders sat around a campfire and roasted marshmallows. All of the children and camp leaders ate regular marshmallows but the camp director accidently had a marshmallow that had a piece of radioactive siren inside of it.

Five days later that same camp director started to twitch uncontrollably. Ten days later he sprouted a big pole out of his head! And on the last day, he started to grow three large sirens on the sides of his head! Blood splashed everywhere! He grew so tall! Around 60 feet tall, as tall as a light pole. He went crazy! Then he ate the children one by one. They ran around screaming, OH NO IT'S SIREN HEAD! Only seven made it out alive. To this day, they still tell stories of him searching through these woods looking for souls of the living to demolish.

The End.

The Night the Boy went in the forest

One day a little boy named Alex had nothing to do. So he went outside and looked around. Alex found a lot of things but the thing he was looking at the most was the forest. His mom said "do not go in the forest" and guess what Alex did. Well he went in the forest and oh it was bad! The thing Alex saw first was a very weird looking spider and Alex was terrified! Alex looked around a little more and found a bird but it was not any bird, it was a bald eagle and at this point Alex was very scared. The farther Alex went it got darker. He heard a noise but he did not know what it was coming from. The noise was coming closer and closer Alex was shaking. These were the words he wanted to say before this happened: I'm too young to die. Alex saw where the noise was coming from and it was a snake. Alex just wanted to leave. So he ran a few steps back and turned over Alex found people churning butter. They also had a chain saw, they were cutting trees down. The first step I took was very, very loud and I was so scared. The people picked me up and put a bag on me. I screamed and screamed but I lost my voice. It was so terrifying. I woke up and screamed for my Mom and Dad. They came running in my room and then I said "I was fine and it was just a night mare."

The Haunting Ghost

Once upon a time, there was a ghost that lived in a grave yard. Every kid had to walk to school by getting past that grave yard. A person called Jackson went inside that grave yard and the ghost scared Jackson. Jackson ran so fast he tripped on a rock and passed out. Jackson's friends found him on the ground and they said "Jackson, wake up!" Then Jackson woke up. The ghost kept on scaring whoever walked by the grave yard. The people kept on getting scared they told their parents they would never go to school ever again. The ghost went to people's houses to haunt them in their sleep. The ghost went to Jackson's house and Jackson saw the ghost. The ghost hid in his closet and the ghost knew that Jackson was awake so the ghost went back to the grave yard. Jackson was asleep the next day and he opened his closet and the ghost said "BOO!" Then Jackson got his vacuum and sucked him up. Nobody ever got bothered by the ghost ever again.

Clowns, ghosts and vampires... oh my!

Once on a dark and stormy night, two kids named Lilly and Jack were sad because it was halloween and it was thundering and lighting. All of a sudden, they heard a knock on the door. Lilly opened the door. It was their friends Annie and peter. Jack said, "Come in, it is pouring rain." Then Lilly said, "Do you want to play the game of life while we wait out the rain?" They said yes. Then all of a sudden the rain stopped. They got on their Halloween costumes and went outside to go trick or treating. They knocked on 30 doors. 2 of the doors gave them huge snicker bars. On the way to the door down the block they ate 2 pieces of candy each. They knocked on 5 doors after that. When they were walking home they saw a spooky house. Little did they know it was haunted. So they knocked on the door and nobody answered. They knocked again. But when they knocked the second time the door slid open. Annie said scared, "hello?" Then somebody replied and said in a spooky voice, " come in. " So they went in and Peter turned on the light but they would not turn on. Then they saw a vampire and Jack said, "Was that just me or did I see a vampire?" Then Lilly said, "nope we saw it too." Then out of nowhere a clown popped out of a wall. Then it said, " go up the stairs and get me some cotton candy." Jack, Peter, Annie and Lilly

All said at the same time yes, out of fear. When they got up the stairs they saw nothing until someone picked up a bucket of baby powder and they thought nobody was there but it was a ghost pouring baby powder on it so they could see him. Annie and Lilly fainted . Peter and Jack loved ghosts. Jack said to the ghost, "What is your name?" The ghost said, " My name is Masper the friendly ghost." Peter said, " like the movie Masper the friendly ghost?" Masper said, " yep that is me." Peter said, "Wow, I can't believe I am meeting the famous Masper the friendly ghost". Annie and Lilly woke up and Peter told them it was a Masper friendly ghost. Then Masper the friendly ghost said, " Want to meet my friends that live here too?" They said yes and they all headed downstairs. They first meet Giggles the clown and went to get him the cotton candy they promised him in the beginning. Then Masper told them the vampire they saw in the beginning was Val the vampire. They all were friends. But before they left Giggles gave them cotton candy. Then they all had to say goodbyes until next halloween. After that Peter said, " wow I can't believe that had just happened!" After that Annie and Peter said, "see you guys tomorrow." Then Lilly and Jack kept walking home. When they got home they told their parents all about the haunted house and Annie said, "I can't wait fill next halloween".

Halloweenie

One Halloween night 5-year-old Prince George and his wiener dog, Hollow, were putting on their costumes. Prince George was Superman and Hollow was a pumpkin. That is when prince George wondered, 'I know Hollow will die if he eats chocolate or grapes, but what about a Chocolate-grape?' So, Prince George ordered his servant James, to make him three chocolate-grapes. So, then James made Prince George his three chocolate-grapes and Prince George fed them to Hollow. Then guess what happened! Hollow turned evil, gained speed, and could talk.

So, talking, evil, fast Hollow ran around the earth several times that hour. Then became known as 'Halloweenie'. But then like every Halloween night people ate their candy. But little did everyone know, as Hollow passed them he turned the candy poisonous! Then if you eat it (like everyone else does) you get extremely ill. But then Hollow tells James to tell everyone that the old money factory can treat you. But Hollow made that up and is really going to make you work for him there.

Then, everyone goes to the old money factory in LA. to get 'treated' on November 2nd. Then finally November 2nd arrived, and everyone got a pill bottle that says 'feel better flu' on it. But after you take a pill you ... you ... you shrink. But since everyone was super-duper mad at Hollow they all ran back to the door and hollow let them in happily and blocked the only exit so they could not escape. So now everyone had to work at the money factory and could only take dinner and sleep breaks or else Hollow said he will kill them. But finally, everyone died from Yellow Fever.

Once upon a time there was a boy named Jake he woke up got dressed to go camp in the forest with his friends. He came down stairs and went outside to his friend's house. When he got there he knocked on the door and it opened. Tyler's dad walked out and said, are you here for Tyler. Yes I am, Tyler walked out and said are you scared I am a little scared okay let's go get Emma. She was in a car and they both got in the car.

They got there and set up camp. They told scary stories and it was Tyler's turn. Once upon a time there was a boy named Blackfeather, he went into a forest he was nervous and kind of shaking he came with a sword. There was an old story, and the story was about the forest where there were blood thirsty demons. Anyone who went into the forest died. He did not care, he wanted to slay the demons so he would get glory and people would make him king. There was a demon in front of him, he gasped.

Blackfeather ran at the demon and the demon died. But what he did not know is that the other demons surrounded him. He looked up and saw every single demon in the forest was there. He screamed in terror, then the demons ran at him and ate him vigorously and some say he is the king of demons.

Red light of Thirteenth

One night Cen was playing Minecraft. It was a silent night like most other nights ,but this night was different. A strange red light was shining through the window. Cen looked at the strange light, and then a really big ant smashed through the window. The ant stared at him Cen was surprised he was going to run, but then Cen got hit hard. The ant gave a wise look. Cen thought the ant knew something he didn't. Then he realized how much pain he was in. He thought his ribs were broken. He thought he was in a dream at first ,but then he realized he was not in a dream. He ran fast down to warn his family about the ant, but they weren't there. So he ran out the house "I hope they are safe "said Cen as he ran. As a large dragonfly flew over head. "I bet the moon has something to do with this" said Cen. Cen hid in a nearby forest. He saw something in the distance, it was a mattress "nice" said Cen as he laid it down. After he made a campfire. Last year he was in boy scouts. He also made a small hut.

Most of the monsters started shrinking immediately in the morning. "I know the moon had something to do with this." Cen woke the next tring to find his family. He never saw his family again.

They wanted to look for a ghost. So they decided to look for a hunted mansion. When they looked for the mansion. They tried looking for the ghost. They had looked everywhere but they could not find one. So they summoned one. They light up candles and hold hands. They closed their eyes and hoped the ghost would come out. Suddenly the candles went out and the ghost came out.

They ran as fast as they could. The ghost came after them and said. "Let's be friend!" They hid in a basement where the ghost wouldn't find them. "That was scary!" said John. "Where are you?" said the ghost. "Do you want to play hide and seek?" "such a creepy voice!" said Jane. "It's getting late. Maybe we should go to sleep." said Jessie.

They looked for beds and fell asleep. The door was open. "Oh No! I accidently left the door open!" said John. "I think the ghost found us!"

"The ghost is in here somewhere." said Jessie. "There you are!" said the ghost. "Run!" they cried. "Hurry, We have to get out of the mansion!" cried John. "Oh No! The ghost is getting close to us!" cried Jane. They all fell into a well. But when woke up they realized that it was just a dream." You guys OK?" asked there mom.

"No! That was a terrible dram!" said Jane. "You guys have been sleeping for a long time. But thankfully you guys woke up." said their mom. "Ghost are creepy!" They are too creepy to look at!" Is the haunted mansion real?" asked John.

"I don't know." said their mom. "That dream looked so real!" said Jessie. Somehow they realized that their mom is a shapeshifting ghost! Their mom got taken by a ghost and disappeared a long time ago.

"You are not our mom! You are the ghost!" they cried. "That's right!" " I am the ghost! Mwahahaha!

The Sea Hag

I got ready for the day, and went to the beach. There was something utterly horrible, like horror show! So I let out a blood-curdling shriek. My father came with Dirnu, our village hag hunter. When we looked at the thing there was nothing! "It was right there." I exclaimed. "Can you describe it?" Dirnu asked "I am pretty sure it was a hag" "This must be a figment of your imagination." Father said. Later we climbed down with some tea.

The next day I saw it again! This time it came out of the water, definitely a hag! I screamed so loud that I was surprised that the whole village did not hear me. Dirnu came with a spear. "Leave before you are seen near me I hissed. "Good will to you forever." she said. "By the way my name is villiana. What is your name?" "You must go now!" she leaped into the ocean.

Best Friends ... Forever?

2001 South Carolina the day before halloween. Edricks mother was saying goodnight to him and after they both said their goodnights to each other Edricks mum left. About thirty minutes later Edrick snuck out to see his best friends Sylvia and Lucifer. Edrick grabbed his bike and left for his neighborhood park.

When Edrick arrived he saw Sylvia and Lucifer. After a while the three of them heard some rustling in a bush. Edrick and Sylvia didn't think much of it but Lucifer got scared. A few minutes had passed and Sylvia got annoyed by Lucifer so she got up and checked all the bushes to prove Lucifer wrong.

Edrick and Lucifer heard an instant scream so they got up and checked on Sylvia to see nothing there but a black cat with green eyes. Lucifer looked as though he saw a dead body while Edrick had a puzzled look on his face. Since Edrick knew Lucifer got scared easily he offered to bike with him home. But as they both biked home they kept seeing the same black cat with green eyes following them home and years later they still don't know where Sylvia went but they always see the same black cat with bright green eyes just like Sylvia.

"Trick or Treat!" Rosie yelled as she smiled. She had pink hair and skin. Her hair was short & hidden under her witch hat that aligned at her witch costume. "Candy Please!" She continued. "Oh sure," The werewolf said as she turned her head. "DA VE! WHERE IS THE CANDY? KIDS ARE HERE." The house exploded with shouts and the kids just waddled away. "That was odd." Sav said his black fur bristled as his tail lashed. "What do we do now? We went to all the houses." Albino Bat said as she sneezed making her pink sweater jump along with her white fur. "Remember the sewer rumor?" Jack-O-the scarecrow said. "Why don't we go in?" The 3 other kids glanced then started following Jack-O-

When they got there, Albino's ears flattened as a droplet of sewer water dripped on her head. "Eww." She murmured. Sav giggled but when it echoed back it came distorted. Albino Bat yelped and got behind her brother Sav. "L-lets .. Go." Rosie said, backing away. "NO! I dare you all stay here."

Jack-O-said. "But .." Albino replied. "DO THE DARE!" Jack-O-hissed at the bat. "Fine, nothing is here anyways." Sav said. "Oh there is ... " A voice said, it was distorted. "It's just a kid in a costume." Jack-O-snorted. The scarecrow reached for the ghost but all the ghost did was turn him to dust. "Silly kid eh?" The ghost said. "I'm Silent, but you better leave before I make YOU silent. Just like your friend."

Rosie shook her head. "I don't believe it-" Rosie screamed as the ghost turned to dust. "This is fun! But seriously leave." Silent joked. "Leave us alone!" Sav hissed. "Okay" they replied. They walked into the scary woods;

As soon as they walked into the woods they turned back and couldn't see home. They heard a strange cry in the distance. " Oh no ... it might be a little kid lost in the woods!" Sofia said. They ran quickly deeper and deeper into the woods. The crying had stopped, Sofia was confused, "Where's the kid?" Her eyes opened all the way. She was shocked.

Out of nowhere Isabella was in a dark BLOODY corner. " HELP ME, PLEASE!" She yelled in fear. The rest of the teenagers were in a different corner, They couldn't move or help Isabella, all they could do was watch. A BLOODY WOMEN WAS STANDING IN FRONT OF ISABELLA. Isabella was brutally slaughtered. The amount of blood Isabella had almost made it to Tahj shoes.

They were back in the forest. "Isabella!" they all screamed. Sofia was crying in tears. She had lost her best friend and her sister. Sofia looked back and Mariam was gone, she rubbed her eyes, and there Mariam was right in front of her dead, eaten alive with her legs torn off.

They all had run into a gate. The bloody woman was back and she pinned Tahj to the tree "RUUUUUUN SAVE YOURSELF", Sofia ran. Out of nowhere Sofia heard a scream. Sofia fell on the ground, she was stabbed in the back. "I won't die. I need to save t-them." Sofia cried "NO YOU WON'T". Weeks later people found all the bodies dead.

"Are you okay?" said Allison, her best friend "yeah ... ! just thought I saw someone."

On the bus couldn't stop thinking about the little girl she thought she knew her that's when she remembered the girl, she was in preschool and had two friends Allison and Mary Harp, Olivia was playing tag with Allison when she accidentally knocked over Mary into construction Mary fell and a pole pierced through her neck from one side to the other she died instantly Olivia's parents didn't let her go to to Mary's funeral Olivia never got to say sorry.

Olivia was walking off the bus with Allison but she kept saying weird stuff like "Don't fall into a pole" and "Don't kill anyone like you killed Mary".

"What!" "What happened?" WHY WOULD YOU DO THAT!

"Do what?"

AHH.

"Allison!?" Allison fell on a pole and it pierced through her neck. Everyone is dead.

Haunted Highway

It was a dark, stormy night and a young, little family was driving on the old highway. They were trying to get home. There were four people in the van. Two boys named Max and Leo, they were both eleven. Also their two nameless parents. It was a nice peaceful night but the family was getting tired. Then all of a sudden they lost their direction. "We must have taken a wrong turn," said their dad. Then the van stopped. "Oh man, we're out of gas," said their dad. But their dad checked one more time and it said it was full. ...

... what is going on, the family thought, was the van broken? No. They got the van checked last week! Their mother called and dialed 911. Great, no cell service. They looked around, not a car in sight. In fact, the only light you could see was an old flickering lamp post. There was no sound except the chirping of crickets. No one said anything after that except, "are we lost?" Then that lamp post hit the car and then ... their van caught on fire.

A month passed before a car came and they saw an old rusted car.

The only thing left is that van with the four dead bodies, and this old legend. People say that they can hear someone calling out, "Max Leo, Max Leo."

The Skinwalker

One night a girl named Mary. She was at a camping party when she was asleep she was awoken by a very faint help me. By the way, she was a very light sleeper. So she got her shoes on and went into the woods where the help me was coming from.

She got far into the woods and she was feeling the presence of another person or thing she turned but no one or thing was there so she kept going. A few moments later she felt that feeling but with two things but when she turned she only saw a small little bunny. So she kept going yet again she felt that feeling but she ignored it until it so close she felt that thing walking so she turned around and she saw a paper white siskind creature with it's mouth opened and it's moth was really bloody, it disappeared in a blink of an eye she was scared she tried to get back to camp but she was lost. She saw that creature again but it was more bloody and scary. She started to run but she couldn't get away. The creature was very fast, it caught up to her and ate her alive and that was the story of the skinwalker.

The Night Monsters

At night I leave my bedroom door open as I was trying to sleep, I was looking at my bathroom door. I saw 2 ears popping out of where I was looking, I looked but no one was there. I saw a big blob of black for the first time, I asked "Can you make a dog?" It made a spine, then a dino, and then it made a dog.

It was cool.

I went to sleep and then I woke up at 12:00, I went down my ladder, out into my hallway. I was thinking "Should I play on the mac or work on my dino mask." I was scared because I didn't want to wake up Mom, and Dad. I took a drink of my milk, my dogs were circling me while I was drinking. Beau almost made me spill my drink. "Beau! You almost made me spill my drink!" I whispered so I didn't wake up Mom, and Dad. I calmed down and patted them. I walked to the bathroom, I heard a faint scream, It was coming from the living room. I remembered no one was up. I got goosebumps when it stopped.

After I was done. No one was there in the living room "Good night!" I said I went up my ladder, covered myself in my blanket and then I saw something in my closet it was making my nose hurt but I covered my nose with my blanket, my nose wasn't hurting and went to sleep.

I never woke up that night again, and I didn't tell anyone I didn't even tell my Dad, Mom, Sister, and even my friends!. Now .. I told everyone in the world ..

My Raggedy Ann Doll

It all goes way back when my great grandma was a kid. She told her mom, "I want a new doll, but I do not want one I already have." Her mom said, "Okay. I will be right back." Then, twenty minutes later she came back and said, "I found one I have never seen before, so I got it."

Then when my mimi (grandma) was a kid she said, "Mommy I want one of your dolls and I want that one." She pointed to the Raggedy Ann Doll that looked like Annabelle, and my great grandma, "Okay, here you go", and gave it to her. Now you know the story.

It was the same way with me and my mom, but here is where the scary part comes. When I was little I had my Raggedy Ann Doll that looked like Annabelle somewhere in my room and I went to sleep. I woke up at 3:00 a.m. one night and I saw it walking on the floor. Then when I woke up in the morning and she was not where I put her.

It kept happening again and again and again and once it had something metal in its hand. I was very very scared and I was trying to not wake up at 3:00 a.m. but I could not stop. One night on halloween I went trick or treating and I came back to eat some candy. After that I went to bed. Then I woke up and she was on top of me and she had something metal in her hand again.

I told my friends and then I said, "Never have a Raggedy Ann Doll that looks like Annabelle because it could get possessed and try to kill you, so never ever ever get one or else something could happen really soon."

The Haunted House

At 3AM on halloween night two friends named Carl and Carlos went to see if the myth of the very old haunted house was real. First they saw a black crow and it hopped on Carl's shoulder and then the friends entered the house. The first thing the friends did was turn on their flashlights and look around the house.

They got really hungry so they went into the scary dining room but something was wrong. A terrifying ghost popped out of nowhere! The friends ran and tried to escape the scary house but the front door was locked. After a lot of running the ghost was not there and they sat down in the dining room. A spooky scary skeleton asked what they wanted to eat.

After they ate their delicious food some zombies busted down a big brown door. The friends sprinted for their lives and barely escaped and they locked a giant silver door. They were stuck for 20 minutes in a very fancy room. After 20 minutes in the room they opened the door and the zombies were not there. The friends spilled their candy to get the bats away. After the bat situation the friends ran as fast as they could to the golden backdoor.

The crow asked Carl a spooky riddle. Carl answered it correctly and the crow opened the gold door. The friends were confused where to go because they were now in a maze. The friends encountered the Grim Reaper and the grim reaper swung his scythe at the friends. Carl and Carlos had split up. Carlos found the exit and he was very happy to be alive. Carl had gotten lost and turned into a bat and was never to be seen again.

The Solar Light

One day Harry woke up and got ready for school, like always he passed the creepy moldy 100 year old apartments that Clara lived in. He went to knock on Clara's door but right as he walked up to the door he got a text, he thought it was going to be from Clara but no, it was from an unknown number, he wasn't that worried so he shrugged it off.

He decides to walk around the hallway because he's never seen the other side of the hallway. As he walks by all the doors he starts to remember that Clara lives on the hunted floor, he then also just remembers what the front desk lady had specifically told him what not to do, she said "whatever you do, do not go in, our passed room 507" he got a bit creeped out when she said that. But he did get more curious so as he walked by room 507 he got this chill, as he kept on walking by all the other doors he got another text from unknown but this time, he read it.

(UNKNOWN) Coming to pick up Clara huh? (UNKNOWN) Hello? OH, I SEE YOU!!!

"WHAT" Harry yelled terrified, he started to look around shaking. As he got another text this one was a photo, as Harry was about to start screaming in terror Clara came outside. "Hey Harry, are you ready?" Clara said, staring at Harry with confusion "o-oh y-ya lets go". As they started walking Harry got another text from unknown.

This time Harry didn't answer, on the way home down the old, creepy, dirty, dark street to drop off Clara. She gave him a hug then went inside, as Harry continued to walk down the street he got another text from the unknown.

(UNKNOWN) Why are you not texting me back?: ("STOP FOLLOWING ME!!!!"

(UNKNOWN) Oh but I'm not, I'm inside you! "W-what you can't be serious!

(UNKNOWN) Believe it or not, its true :!

Harry then started changing, he then had a black shadowy type of dracula coat on and his hair got demons and sharp as a knife. Then his personality started changing. The demon had fully possessed the boy, he then started attacking and killing everyone in his path.

(He used all types of things to kill his enemies that I'm not going to script) Everybody started screaming, as Clara looked out the window, she saw what Harry was doing so she didn't go outside. The next day Clara didn't even bother to wait for Harry to pick her up she was so mad at Harry for doing that but, she didn't want to put him in jail. So she went on with her day, as she got to school Harry was hurting, and killing people again, she was so scared she went home and called in sick, Harry picked up the phone "hi im calling in sick today" Clara said over the phone "oh no how about yo come to school" said Harry's demon named unknown. Clara hung up and Harry started laughing at the school.

Later when it became dark, Harry was asleep but unknown wasn't, he went to Clara's house and killed her in her sleep.

He did it by grabbing her by the hair and throwing her out the window, unknown then went back down to h*ll taking some weird bright green solar light left Harry following unknown after that Harry had no memory of Clara or anyone he had killed (aka all his friends) but who knows what gonna happen next, but the new kids acting weird.

The Halloween Eclipse

Crystal and Frisk were trick-or-treating on a dark starry night. A group of cats were chatting, their tails high with excitement. "What's going on?" Frisks' black fur bristled. "It's finally the eclipse!" replied a firm gray cat. "What?" Crystal and Frisk exchanged glances.

"When the eclipse comes, the witch comes. She has a hut in the middle of the woods ..." He paused with a grin, "Behind the graveyard."

A lean brown cat laughed, "But it's far too scary for girls!"

Crystal flung off her witch hat and stomped up to the cats.

"Oh yeah?" She hissed and Frisk joined in, "Watch us!"

They bolted on all fours, into the graveyard and out like a flash!

It was long after they ran into the woods, they were following a small trail leading to something in the distance. "It's been hours!" Frisk complained, "It was probably a trick!" "Shhh!" Crystal shushed Frisk, "It's the hut!" They sprinted again as fast as their little legs could take them. They arrived at a small hut. It was old and worn out, the porch was filled with spiders and the porch swing was held by weak rusty chains. Racoons and rats rummaged through the sticky garbage cans.

"Eww!" Crystal gagged as she saw a cockroach crawl from the brooms at the door. "Ready?" Frisk turned to her friend, "As ready as I'll ever be." Crystal was about to knock on the door but it opened on it's own like a sharp grin. A thin black cat appeared behind the door.

"Who are you?" They spat.

"I, moon, declare these two worthy of the trial." The witch's tail curled around a lever and the floor beneath Crystal and Frisk fell.

"Bye bye." waved Moon with a toothy grin as they fell never to be seen again.

Crystal woke up in her bed with Frisk oddly beside her. An old witch hat fluttered into their laps, was it a dream or was it real?

I crossed the street as the light turned green. I was trying to find Elm Street. I didn't realize I had walked as far as I did. I turned a corner and saw my neighbor's Christmas lights shining from a few blocks away. It was cold and getting dark so I was thankful that Mr. Wilson went a little overboard when it came to decorating for the holidays. I just moved to Ohio from Florida and was not used to the cold. My parents got me an adorable Bernese Mountain Dog after we moved across the country. I named him Chase. Walking him at night in the cold was my least favorite chore. There was something ... odd about him tonight though. He got so aggressive towards me as if ... as if there was some weird power in him. Like something was possessing him. I shook the thought from my head and kept walking. The full moon appeared from behind some trees.

Chase pulled on his leash. It slipped out of my hand and he took off into the woods. I ran full speed to try to catch him. He was way faster than I expected. "I'm in big time trouble", I said to myself. I turned to go back home wondering what mom and dad would say about me coming home without Chase. But then something caught my eye. There were two bright yellow eyes staring at me in the darkness. As Chase came out from the trees I could barely tell it was him. I saw his mouth was foaming and he was drooling so much! He bared his long fangs. He started running towards me. I screamed and started to run.

My lungs burned from the cold air. I found a tree I could climb and I went up as high as I could. Just when I thought I was safe I heard a snap and I crashed to the ground. I could smell his hot, disgusting breath and as Chase was about to grab me with his long, yellow fangs I sat up in bed. I was sweating through my pajamas. It was just a nightmare. A horrible nightmare. Suddenly, I heard a low growl from the closet . I slowly approached the closet and when I opened the door all I saw was Chase's glowing eyes as he pounced.

A little girl named Amelia wanted to be the first person in her family to snorkel. When Amelia was 18 she signed up for snorkeling lessons. She started at 9:30 Am. When she started she felt like a squid would come at her, "I don't like squids," said Amelia. "Ok let's go," said the instructor. Everybody went in the water, Amelia couldn't wait to get in the deep in. Finally when they were in the deep water the students got separated into groups. The littles would go with the instructor, the bigs went with their group. Amelia got separated with her group and found a shipwreck and went inside it. She found out a squid was guarding it, "oh no a squid." Amelia got above water and was terrified. She went back down and saw the squid, but she got past the squid, then BAM! BAM! Amelia was afraid she would get hurt. A few seconds later she heard a crying noise Amelia went to see what it was. Inside a hole she found baby squids. Amelia realized that the squid wanted to protect her babies. "They're so cute," said Amelia. Mama squid heard her and saw Amelia, she was mad. BANG! Mama squid shook the ship. "It's okay mama squid I won't hurt them," said Amelia, but mama squid didn't believe her. BANG! "Mama squid stop," yelled Amelia "STOP!" Mama squid didn't stop, and Amelia was running out of air! Amelia quickly got out and back on the boat. She told everyone about the squid but they didn't believe her. Amelia took everyone to see but the squid wasn't there and the babies weren't there either. What happened to them, they asked? "The squids must have moved," said Amelia. You're probably just imagining stuff, said a student. "No I'm not, I saw it," said Amelia. "Sure," said the student. "I did," Amelia shouted. "STOP!" yelled the instructor "say sorry now," said the instructor "sorry," said Amelia "sorry," said the student. By the way, what is your name? I'm Joan, what's your name? Amelia, "would you please give me another chance to find the squid?," said Amelia. "Um sure, I'll come with you," said Joan. Everyone followed. They found the squid, the squid realized she was surrounded and gave up "from now on be more nice," said Amelia and the momma squid did. As scary as the shipwreck was, Amelia had the best day ever. Spooky Day

One Halloween night there was a class going on a field trip to a pumpkin patch. In the middle of nowhere by a haunted school that was abandoned! One little girl was young and had black hair. Had gone to the school it was a Middle school and she heard random noises. Like a flag, Hit the floor and a water bottle.

She was Scared! She RAN OUT OF THE BUILDING! Yelling! MOOOOOOOOOOOOMMY! The teacher gasped where did you go? She said inside the haunted school. The class went back to school. After school the girl Kylie went back to the haunted school! With her big sister Piper, they went back to the car. The car was blue and it was a sports car. and drove home the girl, Kylie went to bed but then she heard a noise like a mattock! She yelled Mom! Dad! She heard nothing but a bunch of guys. But it was just her Dad's friends. She quietly tiptoed out of the house.

She took her sister out too. They turned on the car and drove away. They stayed the night at their grandma's house. The next morning Kylie, Piper found a haunted castle so they went inside the haunted castle. They found it right next to the haunted school. After school they went to the store to get some food for dinner. But when they got home their Mom and Dad were not there so they called them but there was no answer so they went to look for them. They couldn't find them so went to grandma's house and they were not.

So they had nowhere to go but back home with the random people for a Halloween party. Even though they didn't want to go back home with strangers. So they went back home to eat dinner. And after that they went back home.

One Spooky Halloween Night

One spooky Halloween night I was trick-or-treating when I saw ghosts and zombies. I told my sister and she started to run around the sidewalk in circles. My sister told me she saw a mummy, and I started to run around in circles on the sidewalk, too. We thought it was kids dressed up in costumes, but then the mummies staid to run towards us! We ran to our house so we knew we would be safe.

When we got home my sister and I ate candy, candy and more candy. Then after eating all our candy I looked at my sister and she was a witch! I was surprised my sister was a witch, how did this happen? It turns out she ate a magical candy and it turned her into a witch! She said, "I will tum you all to witches, to show you the mummies are real". She began saying a spell to make more magical candy to turn us into witches. After the spell was complete, the rest of my family ate the candy and soon we were witches too.

We brought more people to our house to eat the magical candy and tu1n into witches with us. All the witches did spells to turn sunflowers into zebras and daffodils into giraffes. After our spells were complete, we flew on our brooms in the sky. We went to spy on the mummies to see what they were up to. The mummies were trick-or-treating like they were regular kids, no one could tell they were real mummies!

After we enjoyed flying and practicing spells, we realized it was time for the mummies to go back to their tombs. We got them back to their tombs by putting them on our brooms and flying them back. When everything was back to normal, the mummies were home, and we were no longer witches, I woke up and realized it was all a dream! It was still three days until Halloween, and I was scared my dream may come true.

Cheesemaker History

Three hundred years ago, there was a cheese maker. He was going to stay home to find animals, but the cheese maker said " Why would I go find animals if I could make one?". He went to a lab and saw a green slimy goo that read" Make a new animal".

On Halloween night, the cheese maker made a cheese with a cape and bone on it. The cheese maker and the cheese went on a drive in a car. Suddenly, a skeleton popped out! The cheese slapped the skeleton. A zombie ran towards the cheese. The cheese maker got a samurai sword and cut the zombie's arm off. The zombie spit blue and red fire boiling acid at the cheesemaker. The cheese got a rock and went to the Black Haunted Graveyard and slammed the rock on the ground. The zombie split in half from the impact. The cheesemaker and the cheese took a diamond frominside the zombie.

The cheesemaker took the diamond back to his lab and made an animatronic praying mantis. The praying mantis guarded the cheese maker lab from zombies and skeletons on Halloween night.

Lost in a Forest

We are lost in a forest. We need to find food and cook it ,but we do not know how to find water. "I found wool guys, laying on the ground," I said. So we decided to make a sleeping bag. It took a long time to get the materials, but we made it.

We need to find food because we' re super hungry. We made a campfire with rocks and sticks. We found more sheeps so we made a farm. We got wool and we made sleeping bags, it took a long time to get there, but we made it. We all had gotten lost, but my clad and I were in a cave and we heard somebody walking. It was a spider, a giant spider so we ran and ran but we found my mom and my sister. We asked them if they knew where the camp was.

We tried to find our camp but we dicln' t find it. We found food when we were looking for our camp. One hour later! It's about to be night. 1-??? day

Day ???

Guys wake up! Let's try to find our camp. We found our camp and we were so happy! What is that a zombie? ZOMBIE!! We all kick them! We punched them. We all got some armor. (Marine war amore). It had infinite health and why not, radiation suits. Ten hours later! Ok we have built a base out of sticks but it somehow upgraded into bricks. 9 hours later! Guys the helicopter is here to save us! Mission complete!

The Wolf Cave

One night a teenager went to camp with his grandfather. They found a cliff and they set up camp. They set their tents up. they never knew. After they ate the bagged chicken, they went to bed in the middle of the night. The teenager woke up and heard scratching and howling. Then it stopped and he felt a bite on his hip! He screamed in pain as sharp teeth went through his skin!

His grandfather woke up and woke up and saw his grandson punching the wolf. The grandfather took a knife and stabbed the wolf. The pack came and bolted after. The grandfather grabbed his grandson and ran but the wolf pack caught up and the grandfather ran through the pain and got to his phone and called an ambulance and ran in the ambulance and slammed the door shut. The wolf's chased them to the hospital. The military shot the wolves with tranquilizer guns the wolves made the military bring out the helicopters. A wolf somehow took a tranquilizer and shot the helicopters. The military took tanks. Luckily the wolves ran away to their cave. The grandfather had surgery, so did the grandson, after the surgery they had an okay life.

Thursday Creepy

One Thursday evening, Fred woke up and looked out the window. He saw birds jumping on a tree with dead leaves falling from the tree. He got dressed and ready for school. When Fred was ready, he ran out the door to catch the bus. He almost missed the bus. When he got onto the bus he talked to his friends on the way to school. He finally arrived at school. When school ended, Fred went into the woods and saw all sorts of animals. He had never seen these many animals in his life. Fred was not looking where he was going so he fell into a hole and he woke up and saw that he was in a haunted graveyard and Fred heard the gates close on him. He cried, "Someone help me." He felt the ground shaking and he saw arms popping out of the ground and an ant growing bigger and bigger. Fred was scared. Fred saw bees with poisonous stingers. Zombies grabbed Fred but he got them off by kicking them off of his leg. The bees chased him all over the haunted graveyard followed by the giant ants and zombies. Fred stopped to take a breath but then he started to run again. Fred was so scared. He shouted again "Someone help me!" He heard footsteps on top of him and his friends shouted "I am here." But then Fred woke up and sobs "Was that all real?" Fred's mother said "What's all real?" "Me getting locked in a haunted graveyard with killer bees (bees with poisonous stingers) and giant ants with zombies." But then he went back to sleep and, in this dream, he was climbing a mountain then he got captured. While he was climbing he was taken to a volcano. It was hot in the volcano and the kidnappers held him over the volcano. The volcano shook and the volcano was going to erupt. Magma started to rise quickly and soon the kidnappers dropped Fred! Fred screamed "Noooooooooooooooooooooo!" Then right before Fred touched the magma (lava) he woke up.

The Haunted House

Two days before Friday the 13th •••

Tom woke up, got dressed for school, and went downstairs for breakfast. Mom made eggs, and bacon for breakfast. Tom looked out the window. He saw the old house down the street. It had dead trees, and smelled like rotten cabbage. He had been scared of the house ever since he was a kid. The last time he explored the house he heard screeching floorboards, and ran. There was also a dark cloud above the house which made him even more scared. Tom's mom had always said "it's ok." But Tom did not feel ok.

Chapter 2

At school Tom met up with his friends Mia and Bob. Bob had an idea he said "we should have a sleepover." They couldn't do it at Bob's house, or Mia. So they had to do it at Tom's house. Tom did not like this idea, but he said sure. They decided to do it on Friday the 13th. Tom was even more worried about this idea. He had heard scary stories about Friday the 13th, but Tom said "it's ok."

Chapter 3

It was night when an old man knocked on the door. Tom answered the door. The old man had a crooked back, a red shirt, and black jeans. He had a brown cane, and he said "please don't go to the sleepover on Friday the 13th." Tom was confused. How did this old man know that they were going to have a sleepover? He tried to act like Bob. He said "peh" spit, and closed the door. Then he went to bed. That night he heard glass shatter then screaming. He looked out the window, and saw a man covered in black. The man turned. Tom put the covers over his head. He looked again, and the man was gone.

Chapter 4

One day before Friday the 13th ...

When Tom woke up the police were at the house across the street. Apparently that was the old man's house. The window had been broken, and the man was gone. That made Tom even more scared. When Tom got to school Tom told Mia, and Bob what happened. Bob had an idea "we should go into the haunted house." Tom did not like this idea, but Bob said "it's ok I'll beat up the monsters." Tom felt uncomfortable. He did not like this idea, but he said he was in.

Friday the 13th ...

Tom heard the doorbell ring Mia came into the house. She said "nice house." Tom replied with "thanks let's get unpacked." 1 hour later ... ding dong. Tom answered the door. It was Bob. Bob had a green shirt, and blue pants. He had 3 flashlights, and a bat that said "let's kill monsters." Ather they got settled in. Bob said "let's go into the house."

Chapter 6

When they opened the door no one was there. They walked in, there was a hallway. When they walked thru it they heard a noise, skiter skiter. They saw a beast, it had red eyes, and a black body. They ran out the door, but Bob got dragged inside. 2 weeks later ... we still haven't found Bob, and the house is gone.

VAMPIRE CATS RISE

Flash! Thunder echoed through the streets as I hid under my covers. It was the darkest night of my life. Suddenly, one of my cats ran into my room and hid under the covers with me. A minute later, my two other cats ran in the room and also dove under the covers. Hastily, I heard a loud screeching

"Meeeeooooow!" I looked at my cats, but they just looked at me very nervously.

They hadn't made that sound. Suddenly, I thought that must be what they're scared of! I hastily jumped out of bed and slammed the door shut. I quickly locked the door and shoved a lot of heavy and big things in front of the door. I had a seven year old brother, so without a moment to waste, I called him and told to lock his door. He nervously said "Okay," I could hear his voice shaking with fear. "But, why?" He asked. I told him that I thought we were under attack. Then I told my parents to lock their door, but they were sleeping!

I heard the rush of footsteps on the stairs. Suddenly, "AAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" I heard my mom scream! I suddenly heard the door unlock! BOOM! All the furniture hit the wall! The door was open! I covered myself from head to toe with my blue blanket looking through a little hole.

I saw a cat head with a human body, glowing blood red eyes, and Dracula's coat! I saw blood dripping from his fangs! After him, more vampire cats came in, but they were smaller than him. When they all looked away, I jumped out from the covers and kicked one of the smaller vampire cats. He hit the wall with a BOOOMM!, and fainted. Hastily, all the vampire cats, including their leader, looked at me. I felt very shy. All of a sudden, all the vampire cats attacked me! Without warning, the leader bit my foot! I fell to the floor, crying in pain. All of a sudden, all of my three cats pounced at the vampire cats! They scratched and bit the vampire cats, and their leader! All the vampire cats retreated, screaming! Quickly, I heard people coming toward my room. Two people came through the doorway, it was mom and Keith! I quickly told them about how I thought they were captured by vampire cats and how they retreated because of our cats. We all laughed, and suddenly, my pain stopped! So it seems that laughter cures a vampire cat bite.

Werewolf Nightmare!

One Halloween night I found out the worst thing possible! My sister wasn't human and this is the story how I found that out. I woke up and got out of bed but nobody was there! there were scratch marks everywhere! And tonight was the night of the full moon.

Last night I read about werewolves! What if she was a werewolf! And then there was a giant howl! I peeked out the window. I ran to my bedroom, locked the door! Because I saw a werewolf! It's fur was the color of my sisters hair and my mom was in her paws! Then she ran away I suddenly felt curious so I jumped out the window and followed it! Into the forest last night I read that werewolves will turn back to a human when the sun goes down the next day. But then I noticed something the sun was going down.

"Yes" I said this seemed good to me but I remembered werewolves always eat the person well the sun was going down!!! There was only one thing I could think of "come and get me" I yelled! She dropped mom and ran to eat me. And I ran all the way home and trapped her in my bedroom. And the sun went down. I creaked the door open and my sister was in bed, sleeping.

THE DUNGEON

One blood moon night on Halloween on a stranded island in the Pacific ocean in a dungeon, a man woke up in a cell. At first, he didn't know where he was until he saw the bars. He was scared. He said "Where am I? What happened?" Then he saw something bad, a heavily armored ogre! The man's name was Jack. When he looked for a key he saw ten other people in the other cells. He found a key to his cell but he remembered about the ogre and he was not armed so he couldn't open the cell door and then he looked out the cell. The ogre was gone.

Jack picked up the key and put it in the lock and unlocked the cell door. He opened the door then Jack ran out the cell and Jack had almost forgotten about them then, he remembered the ten people were still in the cells. After he had run back to unlock and free the people in the cells then, they went their ways. Jack ran the opposite way to look for an exit. When Jack was running he saw the heavily armored ogre again. He had run in a circle to stay on his path. Jack still had the keys but, one of the keys didn't work for the cell door, at first he thought the key was broken. After that he realized the key was for the dungeon exit. While Jack was running he fell into a trap. He was scared because the walls were closing in on him. He had to climb as fast as he could. Jack got out of the trap safely he saw a map and found out how to go to the dungeon's exit. First, he had to go straight, right, and left. So he went straight, right, and left then he almost got out until ... He saw an army of ogres. Jack had to set off an alarm to make the army go away. Jack saw a rock and picked it up and threw it at the alarm. The army of ogres ran to check on what happened and all of a sudden ... The book closed. The man put the book down and walked out the room, went down stairs, went out the house, walked around the house, and walked into his bunker and into a room where they studied zombies. The zombies were secured and contained in testing rooms. The scientists studied the zombies. He was walking in the hallway between the testing rooms. At the end of the hallway was a very bright light coming from a room. He went into the room and never came back. He was on the other side of the light was the bunker, but the bunker was abandoned. He took a look at the bunker and the testing rooms were broken. zombies were everywhere, and everyone was gone. His bunker was completely full with spirits and the spirits were chasing. He had to get out of the bunker to survive the sprites that were chasing him. He got out of the bunker. His house was broken. He looked for the book and he found it. He was going to continue writing the story but the roof fell on him and he dodged it and he didn't get hurt. Then he ran into the bunker and went down the hallway and into the light and everything was normal and he walked between the testing rooms and walked out the bunker, went into his house, went up stairs, into his room, picked up the book, and wrote see you next time.

Vampire Attack

Only once in a lifetime do you get to make a wish. John was greedy for power, so he asked for vampires to attack. He forgot to say "I am the leader, I shall not be hurt" so his wish came true and vampires filled the city. One by one people started to disappear. Soon he was the only one in the city, so then he sent a command and said "go farther to the city and destroy". He wasn't the leader, so they came after him. He then said "Jennie" - who is his friend - but she was gone!

He said all the names of friends and family. No one came - only the whispers of the wind that he heard saying "you should not have been greedy for power". Then, the wind said in a whisper "you shall see your fate tonight". He cried "I'm sorry, I'm so sorry". Just then, John heard the wind say "I am sorry, but I shall not change a thing. You will find a way to save your city with your life or without it". John said "no!", so the wind commanded the vampires chase him faster and they did. John screamed "I'm sorry", and the vampires went slower. He then said "I will find a way to make them go away".

He tried to destroy them with fire, knives, bombs, but they would not go away. Slowly, John went into a long sleep. The vampires soon destroyed all the other cities, but first they were hungry so they ate.

One day a little girl named Lina came into the forest. She had found a crooked house the other day and came back to see it again. She thought it was weird so she decided to explore. But she did not know what would happen, but she went in anyways. As she explored she found tattered chests, small things and heads, not doll heads, but human heads. Human heads of the people missing. As she ran to the door she heard a throat clear "ahem." She raced to the door but there was not door, just a wall. She saw a granny next to a crooked man walking up to her in the house. She took a step back and said "get away! I'm scared and I want to go home." The granny replied with "I understand, but let me know you something." As she picked up a dead head and dropped it onto the floor again. "Look," she said pointing to the hall next to her. She looked and saw a little girl her age in a white dress with a teddy bear. She was pale, white pale. The granny pushed her into the kitchen where the crooked man was. As the granny stirred the soup, the crooked man grabbed her by the neck and choked her. Her body thunked against the floor and she was never to be seen again.

Dolls of the Night

I'm in my room and I want to be alone. I wrote it on my sign outside the door so my mom would know I'm serious. "Stomp Stomp Stomp!" I hear someone walking up the stairs to my room.

"Creeeeeak!" The door slowly opens. "Hello?" I say. Nobody answers. I jump out of bed and go to the door. Nobody there. I went downstairs to see if my mom was playing a trick on me and I found she was not there. I see a note that says, "Left for the grocery store, be back soon." I assumed that my mom had played the prank on me before she had left, when I saw the date on when she left. 1995 January 30. My blood stopped cold, 1995, today is 2000 November 4. I had been living in the house without my mom for almost six years and I didn't have a father or sibling there with me! Had I really been living without her that long? I can't of, I still remember what she looks like. I look at a picture of us and see in the reflection a pale hand touching me.

I swiftly look around and see nothing. I figured it was nothing. but that was before I heard the door open and close, that was before I heard the noise that made the hair on the back of my neck stand up and for goosebumps to form on my arms. It sounded like one of my dolls. Old broken dolls. I heard scraping on the floor as if it was crawling towards me. I ran up the stairs only to find my worst creepy doll on my bed. I threw it out the window, closed it, took off the covers to my bed so I could climb and went to sleep. I woke up with a start only to find the doll slowly going through my dresser. It looked up and it's red eyes glowed. It said one short thing to make me frightened.

The Whisper of Existence

The wind brushed the trees chilling John's spine as he walked in the forest in the dead of night. There was a loud snap just behind him. Startled, he turned to find there was only a small crow, staring with its beady eyes. John sighed, knowing it was all in his head. He had been there for hours; it must be midnight by now. He continued through the pine forest. When he first arrived, he thought it was beautiful, now it was increasingly eerie. A booming voice interrupted John's thoughts "You'd better run, or I will catch you. There is no escape!!!" John started running. His heartbeat grew quicker, his heart hammering in his chest. This was supposed to be a joke, he thought. He ran into a dark tunnel, bats hitting him in the face as he went. Suddenly, he heard the loud ticking of a clock. "Time is running out, boy." The ominous voice whispered.

As he reached the end of the tunnel, John realized something was wrong. He was back where he started from. "Ohno...this will never end. I can't be back at the beginning!" He tried to run, but his legs would not move. His body was frozen, he couldn't even blink. "You are lost to me." The voice whispered. The forest disappeared, and so did John. He was lost from space and time.

Chainsaw

What is the worst thing that could happen to a girl? You might assume the following: Losing Wifi, not being able to take photos of themselves, misplaced your lip gloss or hairbrush, and so on. But it is none of those. One of the worst things to happen to a girl is actually being knocked out from who knows what, and then waking up in a dungeon, strapped to a wall, surrounded by werewolves, living scarecrows, and ghosts and goblins. And guess who was that girl? If you guessed me, then you're correct. Yippee. "Welcome, young girl, to the Dungeon of Doom!" A werewolf growled, howled, and laughed hysterically at me. I rolled my eyes, scoffing. "I could care less." A huge scarecrow wobbled towards me. "You had better hush it, lady." He scowled, showing the chainsaw he held towards my neck. I'll be honest, I was a bit scared. I felt hot and nervous. Very nervous. "So why did you bring me here?" I finally asked. Wouldn't you want to know? "Because of what you did." A sudden voice came. It was a girl, and extremely familiar. I shrieked a bit in surprise. I tossed my head to see the girl. The light that came from her entrance was so bright, I couldn't see her face. But I could tell she had a large, puffy pink dress, trimmed with lace, bouncy, curly hair, and a bow pinned in the back of her hair. "Hello, Delilah." She said as she stepped down and walked towards me. And suddenly, I knew who she was. Cindy White. The red curls in her hair bounced as she walked right towards me. "Soooo, how are you?" Cindy asked me in an innocent voice, and innocent smile. But then I noticed she held a chainsaw. "What is it with you and chainsaws?" I blurted. "How would you have liked to have your soul taken?" She asked. But she went on before I could even blink. "You did that, yes you did, to Celia. And now she is a wandering, lost soul, who I will never see again." Her smile became a scowl. "I didn't do it! I swear, I didn't, it was Annabelle!" I screamed in horror. And I told the truth. Annabelle was born with a weird power to take the souls of others, but she never did, until I told her that I got a bit jealous of Celia, because Cindy and Celia were very close friends. Annabelle became mad, so she took Celia's soul. And Cindy blamed me. "No, it was you, and I know it was! Don't deny it!" She spat. "It is time you felt my depression. It is time you felt my sadness. It is time you felt regrets." She stared into my eyes. Werewolves and goblins had gathered around to watch. Scarecrows were laughing hysterically. I became sweaty and hot, and scared to death. Cindy turned on the chainsaw. "Three." She whispered quietly. "I really think we should think about this." I blurted nervously. "Two." "What did you think of the weather today, wasn't it-" "One." Cindy plastered an evil smile on her face. Then, she took the chainsaw, and swiped it across both my arms. I screamed in fear, horror, and pain. I started crying my heart out. Then she swiped it across my legs. I kept on crying and screaming. Red liquid was splattered everywhere. Then, she posted the chainsaw next to my neck, and she stared into my eyes. "Happy Halloween, Delilah." She smiled, then swiped it across my head. So, now you may ask, how am I still alive, with all legs and arms? Well, I'm wondering that, too.

The Haunted House

One Halloween night there were two twins. One twin is named Sarah who was a killer clown. Her sister named Ella who was a devil. They saw a house that they thought was a very well decorated house, But it was a haunted house. They decided to look for candy in the house. So they went in and a weird thing happened: the door opened by itself?!

That was weird, but they still went inside. The floor board was creaking.

They went up stairs and there was no candy.

24hours later!

They were not home in the morning. Not a month !

Their mom was worried . She screamed “what happened to my kids!” It was their 20th birthday. But they were not home for it. They were there drishtoring the party.

Everyone was scared.

They went to another island . Nobody ever was on the island except the twins who haunt the island waiting for people to come.

The Monster's Orb

Once there was a girl named Via, a brave 9 year old girl. One Halloween night Via heard a slow knock on the window. When she went to the window she saw a MONSTER! Via screamed so her parents ran into her room. Her parents saw the monster and fainted. Via shook her parents to wake them up, but they didn't budge. All the sudden a piece of paper floated in and landed on the floor. The paper said: "when a monster curses you, it will take a monster orb to cure you". Via was so scared but kept reading. "You will have to cross Vampire Falls, Skeleton Hills, and Witch-ville to find it." Via grabbed her coat to go alone. It was going to be a scary journey, but Via knew she had to do it to save her parents. As she walked towards the falls, she saw the water was red. "Is that blood?" She thought to herself. Then she noticed a little vampire girl dumping red paint into the water. Phew! So she walked on. She kept walking, noticing piles of bones all around her. This must be Skeleton Hills, it was so scary! Then she noticed a candy factory at the top of the hill. They are famous for making candy bones. Phew again! As Via got to Witch-ville, she realized that this journey was not so scary. All the sudden out of the sky came a flying witch. It was shooting her with magic from her wand to cast more spells on her! Via was wrong, it was a scary journey! Via ran for her life. She got to the cave and realized she made it to the Orb. It was in the cave right in front of her. She grabbed the orb and ran home with the witch still chasing her. She ran into her house and slammed the door. She brought the orb near her parents.... IT WORKED! "Via, you saved the day!" shouted her mom. "No," the dad said, "She saved the night!"

The End!

THE VIDEO GAME

It was a dark and stormy night and four kids were playing a video game. Little did they know they were going in the game. “Moo!” said the cow king, who was part human. Jimmy, Xavier, Nyjah, and Lia got closer to a castle and got sucked in the game. Soon a minion appeared. His minions were hydras, and he’s crazy so don’t blame him for feeding it . . . dogs! Wait, is this wrong?! No. Anyway, they tried to stop it but um let’s just say goodbye to Jimmy, and the reason why; the hydra shot him . Xavier being a wizard he was able to kill the hydra. Unfortunately, killing took a lot of energy, so he died after killing it. It was up to Lia, and Nyjah now to defeat the cow king. They were talking about how taming the hydra would’ve been better. Suddenly they got hungry, but they had nothing to eat. Their options were to either eat each other or eat frog cookies, which are gross. They chose each other. Nyjah was a wizard, and Lia was a knight, which was less important, so she got eaten. It was cow king time. Nyjah got pummeled and died, and the cow king ruled the world.

Once there was a girl named Abigail. Abigail was really nice, but nobody liked her. One day Abigail went walking in the woods. When Abigail was walking in the woods she felt a bite on her neck. She thought it was just a mosquito, but it was a vampire in bat form. A few days later her canine teeth got sharper. Then when she got home in the afternoon, Abigail's mom turned the lights on and Abigail said, "Mom can you turn the lights off? It's too bright". "Ok," said her mom. Then Abigail went to her room to look in the mirror, but when she looked she saw nothing. Then her mom called time for dinner. "Finally, something to look forward to," said Abigail. But when she saw garlic bread sitting on the table she hissed. Then she realized she was turning into a vampire and when she was walking in the woods it wasn't a mosquito, it was a vampire. So she killed the people that didn't like her, but not her mom and dad. She turned them into vampires too. And together they killed everyone. The End.

on the last door but before they answered they fell in a hole beneath

Them. It was pitch black and there was now way out.

They were stuck there for three hours. The way they got out was that when the people answered the door they helped them get out. "Our house is haunted" The people said. The people offered the kids in. The next thing they knew they were in a new dimension. The first thing they said was what was happening. The people said they had know idea what was happening. Then the people introduced themselves.

They said their names were Haley and James. They then re-

Once upon a time, there was a colony of vampires. Every Friday at midnight, the community would go around town and suck on the blood of children. The vampires would feed off the children's blood, but they never drank adult blood, for that could kill a vampire. Every morning the screaming of parents would put the vampires to sleep. But one day, there were no more children left. So the vampires ventured into the forest and stole werewolf pups, but it made them very sick. The vampires went back to their coffins, and the parents of every murdered child were there. The humans killed every vampire. What the humans did not know was that they were helping the head vampire. The head vampire could drink child and adult blood. This vampire sent the colony to get the werewolf pups knowing that it would make them sick, therefore having the town all to himself. What the vampire did not realize was that the werewolf had tracked his scent. Then one morning, as the vampire was listening to the humans' screams, they stopped. Before the vampire could comprehend the situation, he was stabbed in the heart by a wooden stake. The werewolves had transformed into humans and told the humans that there was still a vampire left. The humans snuck into the cave where the coffins lay and stabbed the head vampire. Once the humans returned to their town. The werewolves revealed themselves. The humans panicked and killed three werewolves. But before they could kill any more. The werewolves explained what had happened. After that, the werewolves disappeared. But before they left, the werewolves said, " We will be back on the hundredth full moon, and we are not going to be as generous."

The Case of the Missing Candy

“Joe, come here! Look what we got in the mail. It’s a letter from Scotland!” Frank shouted. Joe ripped it open. “It says that we won the contest for tickets to an All Hallows Eve tour of the old Scottish Castle!” Two weeks later, the boys were on the plane to Scotland. “We will be landing in two minutes”, the loudspeaker blared. After a good night’s rest at the Emerald hotel, the boys started out on the long hike to the castle. When they arrived, they were greeted by a weathered park ranger that said he would be their tour guide. As they wandered the musty corridors with the rest of their group, the guide droned on about the history of the castle. Quietly, Frank pointed out an interesting piece of armor through an open doorway. When they stepped back into the hallway, the rest of the group was gone. Frank, who was feeling panicked, started to run down one of the halls. Joe quickly followed. They ran for what seemed like hours through the maze of halls and rooms full of ancient artifacts. Exhausted, they stopped to catch their breath. Suddenly they thought they heard a faint murmuring in the distance and ran towards it, thinking it was their group. They stopped short when they ran into two figures clothed in black. Hands shot out and grabbed them, dragging them down a spiral staircase and finally stopping in a dimly lit room. Squinting in the dark, they saw a figure surrounded by bags of...candy? Joe couldn’t believe his eyes. In front of him was a mountain of candy reaching from the floor to the ceiling. The man stepped forward and said, “I see you have caught some trespassers.” “What should we do with them boss?” asked one of the men. “Tie them up and throw them in the dungeon, we don’t want them blabbing about our scheme to scare off all the tourists and force the owner to sell us the castle” the boss answered. Joe and Frank backed up against the wall. Frank felt his elbow hit something on the wall and suddenly the floor disappeared beneath them. They tumbled downward, landing in a pile of waving limbs and candy. As they got to their feet, they saw that the tour guide and others from the group were tying up the bedraggled candy thieves.

The tour guide came over and thanked the two boys for capturing the wanted criminals and saving the castle from the greedy men.

The Legend of Jones

It was a regular day in Cleveland, there were three preteens walking home from school. Their names were Able (the sporty one), Jane (the clever one) and James (the lazy one).

On their way home they saw a huge forest and said "let's go in". Little did they know the sign behind them said "Forbidden Forest." In the forest, the kids were talking about Jones, The Hunter Killer.

At that moment, they heard loud footsteps in the distance. It was a man and when he saw them he picked up his knife, axe, some matches and ran after the children. James yelled, "It's The Hunter Killer!!!" Jane and Able said sarcastically, "YOU THINK!?" Jane took Jones' matches and then threw them to Able. Then Jones almost cut Jane's arm with his axe. Jane ran. She had enough!! So, Jane made a trap for Jones. First, she dug a hole, after that, when Jones ran after them he fell in the hole. Next, she made a fire around Jones and then she ran out of the woods. And Jones is still out in the woods, coming for revenge, waiting for his next prey, to go hiking.

Vambelstein and the Haunted Mansion

Read if you dare! Vambelstein is a vampire zombie and Frankenstein. Once upon a time, there was a nice family of a mom and dad. They went on a date. So they booked a mansion. They thought they were going on a nice vacation. Then the next night they heard a noise so they met in the very nice living room. When they heard “me want brain, me smell blood and me STOMP.” So they ran across the mansion hoping to find the door but they found a dead end. Then they screamed so loud.

At that point, all they could hear was “bang,” “boom,” “chomp,” “crunch” and howl.” Then they went into the room beside them where they found Vambestein eating all their food. So they stepped out of the room. When they heard the vampire say “me want blood” which made the zombie moan and the Frankenstein walk.

The end.

Castle of Monsters Part 1

Once upon a scary night in a castle far, far away, a curse corrupted the king and made him turn off the barrier to the shadow realm and the shadows got in the kingdom. Now the shadows rule them all. Two teenagers appear and try to stop it. "Vampire come down, its night now," said the boy happily. "I'm coming!" yelled vampire. "I'm scared" said the boy. "Why?" said the vampire. "The shadows are back dancing on the floor," the boy said shaking. "Oh" said the vampire.

"Hey, you ready to fight slappy?" the boy whispered. "Heck, yeah," said vampire. "You?" "If I wasn't, why would I ask?" said the boy. "Good point," said vampire.

"So we go that way?" said the boy. "Don't act cool in front of me," said vampire. "Okay," said the boy. "Slappy is going down," said vampire. "Yeah," said the boy. Dun Dun Dun..... "What was that?" asked the boy. "Don't know and honestly don't care" said vampire. "Okay," said the boy not knowing what to do about it.

2,345 minutes later. "That was easy and quick," said the boy. "I know, right?" said vampire. "Oof, was that Slappy slowly dying?" said the boy. "Yeah, I think so," said vampire. "I never die!" yelled Slappy as he poofed.

"Oops, forgot to wait for your signal," said the boy. "I know," said the vampire. "Sorry," said the boy. "It's okay," said vampire. The End.

Mother

Most people would think of Moms to be “nice” and “caring,” but not mine. Mine was and still is the cruel, selfish, flesh-eating monster. Let me take you back to the beginning. My mother was not the best person at home. She was an alcoholic so she was drunk most of the time. We lived in a small town and our house was next to a graveyard. I went there daily as my only friends were the dead children. I always got bullied at school. One day, my friend Coraline, told me something. It was the same as yesterday. “Your mother is the other mother.” She was dead and had buttons in her eyes, she didn’t like talking about how she died, and whenever I used the word “other” and “mother” in the same sentence she would freak out. Anyway, I went inside because I got bored. My Mom wasn’t home and my Dad was at work. My parents always told me to never go in the basement but I never knew why. So I went inside and started walking down the stairs to the basement. The smell was horrible. I covered my nose and kept walking. What I saw shocked me. It was the dead children’s bodies and there was Coraline, Jackson, Mia, T.J, Keith, and a kid who went missing 4 years ago. Another thing I noticed was that the kids had cuts and bruises all over them. There was also adoption papers all over the floor. One said, “Coraline Jones, adopted in 1997.” Another one said, “Jackson Young, adopted in 2012.” Then I heard footsteps coming down the stairs. It was my Mother and she looked furious. Then she tripped, just as she did, Coraline screamed. “Run, Sophie, and don’t come back.” So I ran. I ran into someone’s trunk. The person started driving. They were driving for days or at least that’s what it felt like.

20 years later. I’m now 28. I decided to go back home to see if my Mom had changed. I bought the ticket and flew back. I wish I didnt. When I went to my hometown, it was empty. There was blood on the walls and the stores and houses were deserted. I walked up to my house and the door was unlocked. I went inside and both of my parents were dead lying on the couch. I felt happy. But just as I was about to walk out, someone jumped me. It was Coraline! She looked at me and the only thing she said was “I told you not to come back.” The end.

The Jail Break

Once on a dark, stormy night there was a jailbreak. The jail break started at 1 a.m in the morning on October 30th, the day before halloween. The rough storm caused a blast of lightning to strike down the prison. It caused the electrical wires to short-circuit. The cell doors released the prisoners.

Almost all the prisoners were found, except for one. Babies screamed at the sight of him. He even carved a dark smile on his face to haunt his victims. The twisted prisoner's name was Jeff the killer. The prison guards were frightened, scared to complete their mission. As they searched for this evil man, The woods led them to an old, rusty barn. As the guards creeped closer, there was a scream, then silence fell. The guards kicked the door open just in time to save an innocent victim from Jeff the killer. He was locked away in jail, never seen again. To this day, the barn still awaits the killer to finish his crime.

The Siren

One day there was a girl fishing. It was a very foggy day. She was all alone. The girl heard a creepy voice saying “ I will kill you. I will drown you and you will stay in your watery grave.” The girl didn’t mind the warning but something was shaking her boat. It stopped shaking. Then the girl heard a singing voice. It was so beautiful that the voice pulled her into the water. The girl didn’t come up. That thing still haunts that lake to his day and drowns anything that gets in its way. It is known as the siren.

The House of Murder

It was a dark and stormy night. Nigel should have known better but he was happy. He had just got an A+ on his math test. So he asked his friend James if he wanted to come over. Of course he said yes. They didn't know about it yet. So they took the bus to Nigel's house. It was Halloween's eve. Nigel knocked on the door. "Nigel " Nigel's Dad answered the door. "Hi dad I hope you don't mind but I brought a friend home for dinner." Nigel said. For a second just a second a malicious gleam came to Nigels dad's eyes. Then it was gone. I must have imaged it, Nigel thought. So they went to the backyard. Nigel's Dad brought out a grill and started grilling. James thought he saw something that looked like a severed head on the grill. "Aah!" he yelped. As soon as he heard James yelp, Nigel's Dad reached into the ice-chest and pulled out two cokes. "Here it'll be a before the hamburgers cook, so have a coke. "He said. James didn't want to be rude so he accepted. "Pop fizz..." He took a sip. It was heaven! As the cool drink settled on his tongue he thought. What was I thinking, a severed head. I must have imaged it. He finished the rest in one big gulp. Because they were located in Wisconsin 1997 from their hill they could see a forest and a lake. "Now who wants burgers?" Nigel's Dad smiled good naturedly. "Me!" Nigel and James said. So Nigel's Dad grabbed some paper plates. They kind of look like they're made of human flesh. Wait, that can't be true. He thought. So Nigel, Nigel's Dad and James ate the burgers. "I think I should go home now." James said. "I'll take James to his house." Nigel's Dad said. So Nigel and James went through the sliding doors. Suddenly the curtains closed. Nigel heard the sound of slicing. Hmm... he thought. He went down to check. "Dad," He called. He felt something roll toward him. He looked down... It was James' head! He looked around suddenly realising his house was not normal. The curtains were covered in blood, the floor was covered with arms and legs, and the table. It was fitted with some sort of contraption that looked like it was meant for you to strap someone down and... Nigel saw bloody knives laying next to the table. "And chop off their heads!" He screamed in horror. "Nigel?" Nigel's Dad said coming in. "Please sit down," He said. Nigel did. He didn't notice his Dad pulling out a butcher knife. "Now relax," He said. Nigel saw it. "Ahh!" Those were his last words. No one knows what happened to Nigel's Dad but even today mysterious murders have been happening and the land that the house stood on is haunted. Anyone who sets foot on that land dies a mysterious death...
