Welcome to the Beautiful Island of Okinawa!

Torii MWR's School Liaison Officer would like to welcome you and your family to the beautiful island of Okinawa, Japan. We recognize many Army families are interested in youth education and services provided here on island. While Torii MWR offers a wide selection of Soldier and family support programs and services, we rely on our larger Air Force and Marine Corps counterparts or off-base providers to provide quality child, youth, and teen services for our families. This resource guide was created for newly inbound Army families—just like you— so you can stay current on available options for local youth educational and recreational programming and relatable district policies in an accurate and timely manner.

Early Intervention (Birth – Age 3): Provides family-centered evaluations and services to children with developmental delays or potential risks for developmental delays.

Related Services (3 – Age 21): Provides services which help ensure a child is able to maximally benefit from the educational program. Children must be referred to EIS by school personnel.

Child Find

Contact or visit a DoD Dependent School (DoDDS) near you

A DoDDS directory is provided in this catalog under "K-12 School Options".*

Description: Child Find is an ongoing process used by DoDEA and the military departments to actively seek and identify individuals (from birth to age 21, inclusive) who are eligible to receive special education and related services. To be evaluated, visit the DoDDS you are zoned for to pick up a form.

Preschool Child Find Screening

Contact or visit a DoD Dependent School (DoDDS) near you

A DoDDS directory is provided in this catalog under "K-12 School Options".*

Description: A developmental screening for children ages 3 to 5 to assist in identifying children with potential developmental delay(s) or other special education needs. To be evaluated, visit the DoDDS you are zoned for to pick up a form.

Why screen and evaluate preschool children?

When learning challenges are identified at a young age, early intervention can help the child avoid serious learning problems when they reach school age. Do any of these concerns sound familiar?

Personal-Social Development

- Has great difficulties in Preschool or Day Care settings
- Does not listen or engage with adults
- Has great difficulty playing with peers

Communication

- Is difficult for most people to understand
- Does not seem to understand directions
- Adults wonder if the child is hearing them

Learning

- Does not seem to remember what was learned from one day to the next
- Does not seem interested in learning
- Does not want to participate in activities that involve learning and exploring

Motor Skills

- Seems to fall often/is very clumsy
- Has great difficulty holding utensils, writing tools or coloring tools
- Does not seem to have strength when coloring/drawing

Self-Help

- Not toilet-trained and all others of the same age seem to be toilet trained
- Unable to put on even simple clothing items without assistance

Sure Start

Phone: Contact a DoDEA primary or elementary school near you

Website: <https://www.dodea.edu/Curriculum/Preschool/index.cfm>

Description: Sure Start is a full day preschool program that serves eligible military children and families living overseas. In addition to offering a high-quality educational program that reflects best practices in the field, Sure Start also provides health and nutrition, social, and parent involvement services. Close collaboration between families, schools, and the installation community is viewed as essential and a required part of the program. This multipronged approach to the delivery of services distinguishes Sure Start from all other DoDEA programs. Current adopted DoDEA College and Career Ready Standards and curriculum materials are implemented in the Sure Start classroom.

Enrollment Eligibility: Command sponsored four year old dependents (must turn four by September 1 of the enrolling school year). Children qualify for Sure Start based on sponsor's rank: E1-E4 or civilian rank equivalent (CRE) is first priority, E5 or CRE is second, E6-E7 or CRE is third and E8-E9 or CRE is fourth. Additional selection criteria may be applied, see your local school for information.

EFMP Kit

Phone: 652-4196

Building 236, Army Community Service Office (ACS)

Description: Families may checkout a kit from the ACS Loan Closet that includes:

- Weighted blanket
- Legos
- Noise reduction earmuffs
- Fidget set
- Sensory fun pack

“Parent involvement in Sure Start is mandatory. Parents are informed before registration that an involvement commitment (i.e., 30 hours per parent, unless a parent is deployed) is a precondition for enrollment.”

Educational Services for Medically Evacuated Students

In the midst of an acute medical crisis, a military child living overseas may experience interruptions in his or her education as their families maneuver multiple challenges in a medical evacuation. Thankfully, it is DoD Education Activity (DoDEA) policy to provide ongoing educational support to students who are experiencing extended illness or injury for a period exceeding 15 days.

Situations:

- Type I: Student is the Patient and experiences an acute medical event requiring urgent treatment outside the sponsor's duty location.
- Type II: Sibling (s) of ill Student who accompanies family to location where ill student is obtaining treatment.
- Type III: Parent, Sponsor or Legal Guardian is the Patient who requires care outside the sponsor's assigned location and brings children with him/her.

For more information, ask your child's Principal, local District Superintendent's Office, EFMP, or branch-affiliated school liaison officer.

Tutor.com: Free online tutoring

All children of an active duty member are eligible

Description: Since military families frequently move from one place to the next, Tutor.com is custom fit for military kids. You get an expert tutor whenever you need help, and you work one-on-one with your tutor in their online classroom on your specific problem until it's done. You never need to make an appointment. Subjects include: math, science, social studies, writing, standardized test prep, language, and much more.

DoDDS homework clubs

Description: Some DoD schools offer afterschool homework clubs. Middle and high schools also offer seminar as a part of their normal schedule to help students seek the extra assistance they need from teachers or other peers. Ask your child what available programs they have to help your child with additional instructional time or homework help.

Summers schools

Description: Many off-base private schools offer face-to-face summer school programs. Tuition fees apply. Student transportation is also likely to be the parent's responsibility or, if transportation services are available, fees may be incurred.

Kumon centers

Description: Kumon offers individualized instruction to help each child develop his or her ability. When military families seek Kumon services, parents typically request their child to receive services that strengthen their child's math and/or Japanese reading and writing skills. Kumon is located in multiple locations off-installation. English translation services are not guaranteed; parents should not expect English speakers at most Kumon centers. Kumon is also all-year round, including summers. Fees applied.

Post-secondary resources

There are several college and university options offered on-post. Such schools may include the University of Maryland University College and Texas Central College. These schools as well as others located on-post are contracted with the base and may change from year to year. Connect with a guidance counselor at an Education Center near you to find out what post-secondary educational opportunities are available to you or your child while stationed overseas. You may consider asking about tuition assistance opportunities as well. High school students are also highly encouraged to connect with their school guidance counselor in advance to seek career and academic advice to prepare them for after graduation.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE EDUCATION ACTIVITY

Career Technical Education (CTE)

Website: <https://www.dodea.edu/Curriculum/CareerTechEd/index.cfm>

Description: This program offers career-related courses to middle and high school students. Career and Technical Education benefits students because it combines workplace skills with rigorous academic work. A CTE class provides students with learning opportunities beyond the traditional classroom and into the world of work. By using a "learning by doing" approach, CTE is about the real world of joining the workforce. Ask your child's counselor what CTE opportunities are available for your child at their school.

High School Career Clusters and Career Pathways

Website: <https://www.dodea.edu/Curriculum/CareerTechEd/index.cfm>

Description: Career Clusters represent the broad groupings of similar occupations and industries within the U.S. job market. Each Career Cluster provides students with the overview in terms of career options and an opportunity to explore the industry. Each Career Pathway focuses on the specific courses and experiences that prepare students for two-year and four-year colleges, and the workplace. Within each of the Career Clusters are various Career Pathways, representing a variety of occupational fields associated with the Career Cluster. We encourage DoDEA students to choose their pathway based on their interests and then we guide them into the appropriate coursework. Working with our students to explore the world of work, they begin to understand the importance of academic subjects like math, science and English in the context of their career interest. To receive a Career Pathway Endorsement a student must complete the Career Pathway Curriculum; a sequence of prescribed courses. When they complete their curriculum pathway, the endorsement appears as a notation on their transcript. Ask your child's counselor what CTE opportunities are available for your child at their school.

Military Interstate Children's Compact Commission (MIC3)

Applicable in all 50 States and Overseas Department of Defense Dependent Schools (DoDDS)

Description: Addresses challenges of military children and their frequent relocations. Allows for uniform treatment as military children transfer between school districts and states. Military families may utilize the Compact to gain additional leverage from school administrators to improve their child's situation when affected by military life. The Compact addresses: record transfers, course sequencing, graduation requirements, exclusion from extra-curricular activities, redundant/missed entrance/exit testing, kindergarten/1st grade entrance age variances, and power of custodial parents while parents are deployed. For more information visit www.mic3.net.

Youth Sponsorship

Sponsors

All DoD-sponsored Youth and Teen Centers and participating DoD Schools

Description: All DoD-sponsored youth and teen centers have a youth sponsorship program. This program connects your child with another youth at their center. The youth sponsor can offer services to your child such as a youth center tour, school tour, and answer questions your child has about the local area. DoD Schools also have familiar welcome services for new students. Ask your youth or teen center director or school counselor on what new student services are available to your child.

DODEA Virtual High School (DVHS)

DoD High Schools

Description: The intent of the virtual high school is to supplement local high school coursework. It is not intended to replace or compete with the face-to-face learning experience of a traditional brick and mortar high school. DVHS will complement traditional high school attendance and allow students opportunities to take many classes they might otherwise have missed. Students interested in enrolling in DVHS courses should contact their local DoDEA high school counselor. Requests will be forwarded to DVHS staff to place students in coursework according to openings at the time of course request. Enrollment is contingent upon DoDEA eligibility. For more information, visit https://www.dodea.edu/dvhs/faq_program.cfm.

Early Accelerated Withdrawal from DODDS

Applies to any overseas Department of Defense Dependent School (DoDDS)

Description: Sometimes military children must move to a new place before the semester ends. A Principal may grant an early withdrawal from school with full semester credit 20 or less instructional days before the semester ends. Justification must be provided to the school (e.g. PCS orders). Sponsors are encouraged to keep their Command informed of this option. For more information, contact your child's school.

Tutor.com: Free online tutoring

All children of an active duty member are eligible

Description: Since military families frequently move from one place to the next, Tutor.com is custom fit for military kids. You get an expert tutor whenever you need help, and you work one-on-one with your tutor in their online classroom on your specific problem until it's done. You never need to make an appointment. Subjects include: math, science, social studies, writing, standardized test prep, language, and much more.

Free Document Translation Services

Description: Children who transition to or from a foreign national school may require their school transcript to be translated. Active military personnel and their family members can receive free document translation services in more than 150 languages for school transcripts. Translations can also be certified, notarized, and accompanied by a certificate of authenticity. For details, visit Military One Source or dial "145" on an installation telephone to contact a One Source operator.

Educational Services for Medically Evacuated Students

In the midst of an acute medical crisis, a military child living overseas may experience interruptions in his or her education as their families maneuver multiple challenges in a medical evacuation. Thankfully, it is DoD Education Activity (DoDEA) policy to provide ongoing educational support to students who are experiencing extended illness or injury for a period exceeding 15 days. Situations:

- Type I: Student is the Patient and experiences an acute medical event requiring urgent treatment outside the sponsor's duty location.
- Type II: Sibling (s) of ill Student who accompanies family to location where ill student is obtaining treatment.
- Type III: Parent, Sponsor or Legal Guardian is the Patient who requires care outside the sponsor's assigned location and brings children with him/her.

For more information, ask your child's Principal, local District Superintendent's Office, EFMP, or branch-affiliated school liaison officer.

What K-12 Schools Exist in Okinawa?

Torii MWR's School Liaison Officer recognizes school preference as a sponsor's right and that there are a variety of legitimate forms of education for the sponsor's dependents to choose from. Here are some options available in Okinawa, Japan.

“DoDDS is tuition-free for eligible dependents of DoD personnel. Other school options, like private and home school, may incur out-of-pocket expenses.”

Sure Start

Phone: Contact a DoDEA primary or elementary school near you

Website: <https://www.dodea.edu/Curriculum/Preschool/index.cfm>

Description: Sure Start is a full day preschool program that serves eligible military children and families living overseas. In addition to offering a high-quality educational program that reflects best practices in the field, Sure Start also provides health and nutrition, social, and parent involvement services. Close collaboration between families, schools, and the installation community is viewed as essential and a required part of the program. This multipronged approach to the delivery of services distinguishes Sure Start from all other DoDEA programs. Current adopted DoDEA College and Career Ready Standards and curriculum materials are implemented in the Sure Start classroom.

Enrollment Eligibility: Command sponsored four year old dependents (must turn four by September 1 of the enrolling school year). Children qualify for Sure Start based on sponsor's rank: E1-E4 or civilian rank equivalent (CRE) is first priority, E5 or CRE is second, E6-E7 or CRE is third and E8-E9 or CRE is fourth. Additional selection criteria may be applied, see your local school for information.

“Parent involvement in Sure Start is mandatory. Parents are informed before registration that an involvement commitment (i.e., 30 hours per parent, unless a parent is deployed) is a precondition for enrollment.”

Homeschooling in Japan

The Department of Defense neither encourages nor discourages sponsors from homeschooling their children. They recognize homeschooling as a sponsor's right, and can be a legitimate alternative form of education for their dependents.

Legal Requirements

A host nation, state, commonwealth, territory, or possession where a DoD sponsor is stationed may impose legal requirements on home-schooling practices. Sponsors are responsible for complying with applicable local requirements and should consult with installation Staff Judge Advocates concerning these requirements. Contact your local Legal Office.

Support for Homeschoolers

The DoD Education Activity (DoDEA) offers resources for homeschooling students. Eligible dependents may use or receive auxiliary services at DoD schools in Okinawa. Auxiliary services include the use of academic resources, library access, after hour use of school facilities, and participation in music, sports, and other extracurricular and interscholastic activities. Eligible homeschool students may also participate in a DoDEA commencement ceremony.

There are also independent community homeschooling groups. Most groups establish Facebook pages to generate more members.

HOME-SCHOOL

Quick Facts: Support for Home-school Students

The Department of Defense Education Activity (DoDEA) takes great pride in its ability to extend a positive educational experience to any eligible military-connected student who chooses to engage with our schools, including homeschool students. DoDEA recognizes and respects that home-schooling is a military member's right and that it can be a legitimate alternative form of education for military-connected families. DoDEA neither encourages nor discourages military members from home-schooling their children.

DoDEA Directive-Type Memorandum (DTM) 16-E-001, dated December 19, 2016, clarifies DoDEA services that are available to eligible Department of Defense (DoD) dependent home-school students. The DTM also provides guidance about participation in DoDEA commencement ceremonies.

The information below provides an introduction to DoDEA's home-school resources and services.

Eligibility: DoDEA's DTM 16-E-001 applies to DoD dependent home-school students within commuting distance of a DoDEA school who are eligible to enroll in a DoDEA school in a tuition-free status (DoDEA-Americas) or a space-required status (DoDEA-Europe and DoDEA-Pacific). It does not apply to space-required students who are enrolled in host nation schools.

Services and Resources: Eligible home-school students may use or receive auxiliary services, enroll in one or more DoDEA courses, and/or access gifted education, English as a second language, or special education services consistent with existing DoDEA regulations and policies. Auxiliary services include use of academic resources, access to the library of the school, afterhours use of school facilities, and participation in music, sports, and other extracurricular and interscholastic activities. Academic resources, such as textbooks, workbooks, library books, scheduled standardized tests, software, and internet (through the Information Center of the school), are made available to home-school students on the same basis as dependents enrolled in DoDEA schools. Auxiliary services do not include participation in DoDEA commencement ceremonies.

Commencement Ceremony Participation: Eligible home-school seniors who are fully enrolled in a DoDEA High School may participate in a DoDEA commencement ceremony by meeting DoDEA graduation requirements, earning a DoDEA diploma, and complying with DoDEA graduation policies and procedures (i.e., DoDEA Administrative Instruction 2000.1). To learn more about methods of support and/or acknowledgment available to home-school seniors who have not met DoDEA graduation requirements, please contact your DoDEA school administrator or visit the DoDEA home-school Web page listed above.

Host-Nation, State, Commonwealth, Possession and Territory Laws: A host nation, state, commonwealth, possession, or territory where a DoD sponsor is stationed may impose legal requirements on home-schooling practices. DoDEA encourages DoD sponsors who wish to home-school their dependents to communicate their desire to their commanders to determine if there are any command policies or other rules ensuring that home-schooling practices meet nation, state, commonwealth, possession, or territory requirements.

For more information about DoDEA's support for home-school students, please visit the home-school Web page for access to the DTM and frequently asked questions: www.dodea.edu/parents/homeschooling.cfm.
